DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-5 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 15-18 of copending

Application No. 10295613; unpatentable over claims 1-6 of copending Application No.

10666197; and unpatentable over claims 1-9 of copending Application No. 10689886.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because although the phraseology is different in the preamble and the inventions are directed towards different uses (i.e. battery separator, surgical apparel, absorbent article) the substance of the composite appears to be the similar or at least encompassed by one another.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vander Wielen et al. USPN 4720415. Vander Wielen discloses a nonwoven compound fabric comprising a nano-denier barrier layer having a plurality of continuous thermoplastic filaments having a diameter of less than about 1000 nanometers (col. 4, lines 18 through col. 5, line 17). Vander Wielen discloses a nonwoven substrate layer (col. 12, lines 12-45) and a secondary barrier layers (col. 14, lines 19-29, Figure 2A). Vander Wielen does not specifically disclose an absorbent article structure. However, Vander Wielen discloses the nonwoven compound for use in absorbent articles (col. 9, lines 16-19 and col. 21, lines 52-61). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the absorbent article with a topsheet, backsheet, and absorbent core, since these components are old and well known in the diaper art for constructing an absorbent article. Additionally, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to employ the nonwoven compound as a backsheet or leg cuffs in an absorbent article. Doing so would provide a liquid impervious material in areas where leakage is to be avoided as well as providing a soft cloth-like fabric that is comfortable to the user, which Vander Wielen teaches is desired (col. 9, lines 16-25).
